INFO:

- Fourth and final part in the little CD series on 'true rock & roll in Germany' on Bear Family Records®.
- Nico Feuerbach has put his heart and soul into compiling this edition full of quirky, rare and once well-known recordings from the 1950s and '60s.
- Including, among others, the Rattles, Conny Quick, the Liverpool Beats, Dieter Kersten, Peter Reese & The Pages, and and and ...
- Original compositions and idiosyncratic cover versions, unique, exciting and a reflection of the music scene of the day.
- Extensively narrated by Roland Heinrich Rumtreiber in the comprehensive booklet with many photos and illustrations.
- Carefully remastered from the best possible sources and nobly packaged in Digipak.

Crazy-O: Bear Family Records® 'Rockin' With The Krauts' mini-series beats all sales records. Yep, even re-editions of volumes 1 and 2, released shortly before Christmas 2022, sold out before the first fall of snow. So Santa Claus called for a crisis summit, and the production department met to brainstorm for volume 4.

And now, Bear Family Records® proudly presents another breathtaking compilation of German Rock & Roll from the '50s and early '60s. The balancing act between the Northern Band sound of Conny Quick's Rock Baby Rock, which sounds like Conny singing in the shower to the swing program on his tube radio, and the raw beer cellar sound of the famed Rattles with Shimmy Shimmy, succeeds effortlessly. The compilation delivers unusual gems like the Liverpool Beats' cover of Jimmy Reed's Let's Get Together, a bold copy of the Marcells' Blue Moon, and Kiss Me by Dieter Kersten and his Rockin' Stars. Their garage teen rockabilly is reminiscent of early Johnny Powers. Peter Reese and the Pages deliver a cosmic Silver Surfer sound yet call their instrumental modestly Pages Rhythm. The countryesque Die Farbe der Liebe by jazz virtuoso Paul Kuhn is a late-hour bar shuffle for the Wirtschaftswundermann. And if that's not enough exotic mishmash swingeroo, you'll be confronted with the unleashed Hannes Patek. There hasn't been a more beautiful echo or deranged sax solo since mighty Esquerita rocked along.

'Rockin' With The Krauts, Vol.4' is another must-have in any collection. Since it's best to stop when the buns are busting, it's Bear Family's grand finale. Hannes Wüst knows best: "Today we do Bim Bim." You can't top that - only with 'Bum Bum' - really Wüst ... GO GET IT!
